

Announcement

ILSI America LLC is pleased to announce the acquisition of MMD Components. Although the combined entity will operate as a single group, the MMD, Monitor/Quartztek brands will be sold through ILSI – MMD Inc. and the ILSI brand will be sold through ILSI America LLC. A single management structure with integrated sales and marketing will promote and sell both brands under their respective part numbers.

Our customers can be assured they will receive the same products, produced in the same factories as has been previously provided. Continuity in our supply chain will be maintained in design and manufacturing processes.

All sales channels and contacts will remain the same until further notice.
